PRAYER FOR MY SPOUSE

Lord, I come before You today to thank You for (SPOUSE'S NAME).

Thank You for bringing us together and for the covenant we share. Thank You for the years we've had, the memories we've built, and the life we are still building. I ask that You would strengthen our marriage. Help us to love each other the way You love us, with patience, kindness, and grace that doesn't run out even on the hard days.

Where there is distance between us, draw us close again. Where there is hurt, bring healing. Give us the humility to say sorry quickly, the wisdom to listen well, and the courage to be honest with one another even when it's uncomfortable.

Protect our marriage from anything that would divide us: pride, comparison, distraction, or weariness. Guard us from outside voices that would plant doubt where there should be trust. Make our home a place of peace, laughter, and safety, a place we both want to come back to.

I pray for (SPOUSE'S NAME)'s heart today. Comfort them where they're weary, strengthen them where they're weak, and remind them how deeply they are loved, by me and by You. Help me to see them the way You see them.

Give us a marriage that points other people to You. Let it be a picture of faithfulness, forgiveness, and steady love, no matter what season we're walking through.

Thank You for the gift of this marriage. May we grow closer to each other, and closer to You, with every year we're given.

I pray this in Jesus' name, Amen.
